

Archaeologist

Joseph grew up wanting to be an archaeologist. As a young boy, whenever he saw his dad with his tools, like shovels, buckets, even large digging machines such as bulldozers, he would dream about becoming an archaeologist. He started researching more about it and everything about this job fascinated him. He knew he likes to dig in dirt, look for lost things, putting puzzle pieces together, figuring out stories from clues, and learn about the past. When Joseph finished school, he pursued his ambition and got his degree. His dream came true and now he works as an archaeologist in Egypt.
