

Homophones

- A homophone is a word that sounds the same as another word, but has a different meaning, spellings, and origin.
- Example: know and no, toe and tow

Circle the correct homophone and write it in the blank to complete each sentence.

1. I didn't _____ (know, no) tomatoes are fruits.
2. The black trousers are too loose around my _____ (waste, waist).
3. Can I borrow a _____ (pair, pear) of scissors?
4. Judie has a stomach-ache because she _____ (ate, eight) eight cookies.
5. It is advised to apply sunscreen before going out in the _____ (son, sun).
6. Mike forgot to _____ (male, mail) the important documents.
7. The class was misbehaving because they were _____ (bored, board).
8. _____ (wear, where) is the nearest grocery store?

Write a sentence using one of the homophone (word) that you didn't circle.

9. _____

10. _____
